

The people wanted to be part of God's family. They shared what they had and ate together.

Acts 2